POWER AND LIBERTY.

Debate Closed .-- Party Featty .-- Ph. Victory in 1880-Greenbackers -Radicals on the Rampage---Dead Issues---Northern Partisans Terrified de., de., de.

Washington, April 4.—House.—The House met hour earlier than usual time of meeting, so as to give that extension of meeting, so as to give that extension of time to the general debate, which closes at 3 o'clock to-day.

The first one to address the House was Singleton, of Mississippi, who stated the question to be whether the House had the courage and determination to repeal pernicious laws, or whether it would falter and fail in its duty to the country. He admitted that under the present administration no troops had been stationed at the polls, but no one could tell whether the course of the last administration in that respect might not be followed in next. He thought that the return of certain gentlemen to public life (meaning perhaps Senator Chandler and Logan) bowed no good to the republic. In face of disgraceful law which it was now proposed to repeal the boasted freedom of America was a mock and a lie. In conclusion Singleton stated (in references to the supervisors law) and that party fealty taught him to submit to party dictates He therefore accepted a partial repeal of of the supervisors law with a notice to all concerned that he accepted it only as first installment of the long delayed justice to an oppressed people and that he should in all time to come labor in the season and out of season to secure a repeal of every line, word and letter of that law. The next speech was made by Weaver, of Iowa, one of the Greenback representatives. He depreciated keeping open sectional animosities and he ridiculed the pretensions put forward yesterday by Knott, of Kentucky, as to provide ace guiding the Democrats as of all chosen people through deserts, and suggested that the gentleman conand suggested that the gentleman confounded the two things and that it was to the army of Pharo that the Democratic party is to be likened. He predicted that in 1880 the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, would instead of reaching that goal, meet his doom as Moses had met his on Mount Nebo. unless that party would give relief to the country in financial measures it would have forfeited its opportunities for victory in 1880. He raised a laugh by describing how two political parties in the House, after waging a bitter partisan warfare during the week, met to gether every Saturday and voted like brothers to carry over the session until Tuesday, so as to prevent the party of tions, such as flowed into the treasury in 1860. It was threatened by gentlemen of that majority that if the President should veto the bill, they would dent should veto the bill, they would themselves, indulge in similar movein order to obtain a two-thirds majority, and failing in that, that the appropriations should fail. To that programme the minority would, invariably vote "nay," to the end of the chapter.

Tucker, of Virginia, next spoke. He denied that the President had any right to the mode of proceedings used by Congress, and if he vetoed the pending measure he must do so on its merits, and not on account of the method of its passage. Those merits, he said, took away from his Excellency tle right to preside with his troops at the polls. Gentlemen from the other side said that they would never yield. He would tell them that in the conflict between power and liberty, if the former would not yield, liberty was just as firm. It might be said that he (Tucker) as a Southern man, was opposed to the army. He denied it. He had never yoted for any bill which would ampair. measure he must do so on its merits, as a Southern man, was opposed to the army. He denied it. He had never voted for any bill which would suppar its efficiency, but favored the sriny as the servant, and not as the master of the people. He believed the flatter of the people. He believed the flatter of the people is a factor of the people. people. He believed the Government of the United States to be the best sys-tem of Government ever devised by wit of man, but in the matter of power of Government and the liberty of the people he would put that power at its minimum and that liberty at its maximum, consistent with safety of society. He would have the law on the judgment seat wearing the civic crown and ermine and gently and with numailed hand leading for the liberty as his wedden and leading for the liberty as his wedden. hand leading for the liberty as his wed-ded wife. He would have the army and navy to be the willing servants of lib-erty to expel on her call all invaders upon her sacred precincts or to put down the despotism of licentious mobs. If his aspirations and hopes, his dreams and visions could be realized, feeling as the did that the sear and yellow leaf was approaching, that the evening of his life was coming to its close, and he might then, with humble reverence repeat the prayer: "Now, oh! Lord, lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes hath seen the sal-vation of my people's liberty, and has seen restored the grand and noble system of the constitution of our forefathers. During the conrse of his speech he was frequently interrupted with applause and in conclusion was warmly congratulated. Garfield closed the Re-publican side of the debate. The vote will be taken to-morrow, after which the conflict will be transfered to the

Who Killed Cock Robin? [Extract from Chalmers' Speech in the House, April 1, 8879.]

The distinguished gentleman from Ohio intimated that he wanted another appeal on this question to our great sovereign, the people. Three times already an appeal has been taken, and three times the verdict has come back in favor of the Democratic party. On the first two appeals a Democratic House told that Van had sought the sheiter of in favor of the Democratic party. On the first two appeals a Democratic House of Representatives was returned, and in the last both a Democratic House and a Democratic Senate was elected. Without attempting a discussion of the merits of the question, without taking back a single word that he or anybody else on his side had said about the rightfulness of this measure. he boldly and defiantly said: "You shall not compei us; you shall not coand that sentiment was met with rounds of applause by geutlemen upon the other side.

Now, I do not believe that the Goyernment is going to die; but if it should die from the issue now presented, upon whose shoulders will the responsibility rest. The Republican party admit that they are standing upon a mere question of pride, a punctilions whim, a mere chip on the shoulder, as the gentleman from Ohlo has said. The Democratic from Ohlo has said. The Democratic party is standing upon one of the vital principles of English liberty, a principle older than the Constitution itself, a principle wrung by the English Commons from one of the English Kings, a principle which has never been violated in American history except when, during the war, military necessity seemed to require it in the border States, and standing against a law never enacted in American legislation till it was deemed as a military necessity in time of war. as a military necessity in time of war, if a contest comes between the co-ordinate branches of the Government on this question, which principle should

It is probable that Governor Hubbard has used very strong expressions concerning him, even to threats of inflicting personal violence.

It was the General's bad forthe distressed family at home and for the matter of that abroad, who were dependent on Van for subsistence. It was not much of a fight, the bill of indictment was defective and Van was poor in purse, but rich in pluck. Would the jury not regard these facts and say "not quilty" for Van? The jury did as requested and the General with a smile of triumph on his laps as Brindletown woods an hour before, re-lying in part on his lawyer, but more on legs. Mr. Miliard insisted that the witness should point out the falsehoods in Dr. Talmage's pulpit utterance. The witness could not remember the assertions and the report of it would not be allowed in his hands. He said that he would stop to think, if he must. He covered his eyes with his hands, and in a few minu e, peeping out between his fingers, at the Moderator, said: "You might as well close up, for it is going to take me an hour." He resumed his meditations, and when he was interrupted, he said, comically: "Now I'm thinking, and all I want is to be let alone. I'll be just one hour." He sat with his hand over his eyes, still think-ing, when the Moderator announced that the hour for adjouanment had arrived. Fitz John Porter.,

Courier Journal.

The tindication of General Fitz John Porter was celebrated last week by his old soldiers living in New York State by the firing of cannon and congratuatory addresses.

An effort is being made to persuade the President that Porter should be satisfied with his vindication, and that he should receive no arrearages of pay since 1863, the time he was unjustly cashiered. In strict justice Porter get every dollar due him of his pay. He was kicked out of the army on the fulse charges of General Pope whose incompetency during the second Buil Run campaigu ced to a disastrous defeat. Porter was selected as the scape-goat, and he was tried and condemned by a packed court martial, and suffered the punishment Pope (and, in fat, Stanton, who held back re-enforce-Stanton, who held back re-enforcements proposely) should have suffered. The testimony before the Advisory Board, which has been in session for some months, rehearing the Porter case, shows that Pope issued orders before the second Bull Run battle (August, 1862 which could not possibly be executed; that he showed himself to be utterly unacquainted with milito be utterly unacquainted with mili-tary situatiou; that Porter, by making a bold stand, saved Pope's entire army from annihilation and Pope from cap-The testimony was direct and conclusive, as shown in the testimony and by the splendid summing up of Porters's lawyer, John C. Bullitt, Fsq., of Philadelphia. A significant fact about Porter's court-martial is that Generals King and Ricketts, who aided in the trial of Porter, and, next to Popé, were responsible for the disaster, left their posts and failed to aid Porter when he was holding Longstreet in check. Pope, King and Ricketts should have been court-martialed instead of Fitz John Porter, who did better and more effective fighting than Grant himself ever did.

The conduct of Pope was distune on that day to appear for one Van Johnson, charged with assault and battery, and eloquent was his pleading for cent and worthy party the punishment he himself deserves has nothing manly or noble in his nature.

LEADVILLE. Great Crowds on the Way Thither-The Town, The Miner and the ov. E People!

In going to Leadville, Col., some two weeks ago, a gentleman writes that he had to wait two days at Canon City for his turn on the stage, and, when he got there, ten or twelve stages came into the city every evening loaded with passengers. He also found the cars from Kansas City on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad so full that no place could be obtained in the sleeping car, and only a single seat, without the possibility of a change, in the passenger car. The railroad com-pany is now building a road from Ca-non City to Leadville, 127 miles, following the Arkansas river nearly the whole distance. The writer expressed his astonishment at the grading of the line up this canon, which in some parts is not as wide as Tremont street, near the museum, with many abrupt turns around the elevated points. "I climbed up the north side of the canon to the height of 1700 hundred feet in two hours, and was satisfied with the time and labor spent, as it afforded a bea 'ti-ful view of the foot hills about Canon City. This canon is the finest I ever saw, and building a railrod through it is a great engineering feat. When finished, it will bring thousands of pleasure seekers to this region." Leadville, the writer says, reminded him of Jules-burg, Cheyenne, Ellsworth, Hayes and other railroad towns, excepting that, while they were composed mostly of tents and portable houses, this "city" has many permanent houses and other improvements, showing faith in the mining resources of the region. Among other things the city is building water works, and the water will be in in April, works, and the water will be in in April, although it is an article not much used, excepting for laundry purposes. Fire plugs, however, are put through the town, and a fire engine has just been purchased. Sunday in Leadville, it seems, is just as much of a business day as any of the week, only a few places of trade being closed, the gaming houses, theatres, saloons, etc., all running in full blast; and, late in the night, the streets were as full of men as Washingstreets were as full of men as Washington street, near Temple place, is of wo-men. All was quiet, however, and there was no loud talking.

MINES AND MINING. The mines, which are the magnets that have drawn so large a population that have drawn so large a population to this "gamp," are represented as wonderful. "I have been into several of the leadins mines, and, by the courtesy of the superintendents, have been shown through the underground workings. I have seen more paying ore, in the past week, than I ever saw before; and I have seen sand and cheap looking dirt hauled to market that three years ago would not have been looking dirt hauled to market that three years ago would not have been considered worth anything. There are possibly from twenty to thirty paying mines here now, and very many claims that will doubtless strike minerai. Then there are hundreds that are doubtful. Kverybody is after carbonates, and you hear nothing else talked about. There is no real prospecting, after the old style. A man finds a place, dezvous for about all the traines who come along, and apparently the good news is being widely spread among the wherever there is room, and commence sinking blindly. CURRENT OPINION.

One for a Million.

Such a construction of the vete power as that for which the Republicans contend, would enable one man to defy the majority of the people. It would prac-tically subvert the cardinal principle of American liberty.

Republican not Democratic Doctrine.

Louisville Courier Journal.

It should be distinctly understood by the American people that the Republican party has clearly asserted its belief that the elections in the States must be controlled by Federal bayonets. That is Republican doctrine. It is not Democratic doctrine; and if the Republican doctrine is duly analyzed it can not be a popular doctrine, because it is anti-republican doctrine.

The People With the Democracy. N. O. Democrat. 144

The Democratic party has a large ma-jority of the people with it upon every political proposition involved, and the more thoroughly they are ventilated the more fully will the wisdom of the majority in Congress be vindicated.

Garffeld Good, Standing Bear Better.

Philadelphia Record. Philadelphia Record.

It is admitted on all hands that General Garfield's late speech in Congress is one of great force and ability. But the speech made by Standing Bear, in his appeal to General Crook on behalf of his tribe, is a much more effective speech than Garfield's. It is, after all, great occasions that call forth great speeches. Mr. Garfield had to make his occasion. Standing Bear had his occasion provided for him.

WASHINGTON, April 3.

Yesterday and to-day the debate in the House approached dramatic climaxes. Yesterday a little, nervous product of the South made a calm review of the Republican position, and had not his choler been worked up by needless and exasperating interruptions from the Republican side no sentence of his speech, which occupied over an hour, could have alarmed the most ardent believer in the so-called new rebellion. Mainly he directed his attention to the speech of Garfield, and from copious quotations of the record of Congressional debates pointed out the inconsistences of not only Garfield—who has thrown himself into the breach as the Republican champion—but also the party itself. In closing there occurred a laughable episode, Chalmers in his peroration, after ridiculing the awful bugaboo of a new rebellion, said in a rather taunting way that the Democrats were not afraid of the new cry of revolution. CHALMERS, OF MISSIPPI, made a political harangue, that illy befitted his reputation or the place in which it was made. The Ohio idiot who is editing the Okolons States in Mississippi, and whose paper recently had a leader which has already been copiously copied, starting of with: "Yes, thank God! the Confederates have captured the Capital." furnished the text. Frye's powerful lungs furnished the wind, and froth and fury took the place of sound argument. The editorial alluded to was first read at the Clerk's desk at Frye's solicitation. Then he branched away back to 1854, to the the days when the fugitive slave Burns was taken from Boston to Vir-Frye of Maine to the the days when the fugitive slave Burns was taken from Boston to Virginia, to successfully accomplish which it became neccessary to employ the United States military forces. This he considered the first attempt to capture the Capital. Then the war fought over; Sohn Brown's raid incidentally lugged in, and other enisodes quoted to show in, and other episodes quoted to show that the South always had its hand outstretched to capture the Capital. The most significant feature of the

The most significant feature of the speech was:

"Yes, you have captured the House; yes, you have captured the Senate; but, thank God, you have not captured the President yet!" The emphasis put on the word yet by Frye conveyed the impression that he and his colleagues were much afraid that the President might be or was captured; and the remainder much atraid that the President might be or was captured; and the remainder of the speech seemed, as did Garfield's, to be delivered with the hope that, the President's back bone was weak, a few stalwart speeches might serve to stiffen his vertebrat column. Kentucky comes to the front to-day. Knotts able, judicious and conserva-tive speech and Blackburn's brilliant and eloquent vindication of the Demoeratic party made the Democrats happy. Honeh, a ranting radical from Tennes-see, and ex-Secretary Robeson stiffened the Republican backbone. The debate goes on to-night. To-morrow it closes, when the Legislative bill will inaugurate another era of political agitation, Evarts is pleased.

Secretary Evarts was on the floor of the Senate to-day, and, alluding to the debate in the House, said that full discussion, he believed, was a favorable indication of adjusting the differences satisfactorily to all parties; that he was gratified with the attitude of the Republicans, as they were now resolute and united. House Committees. It is given out by Speaker Randall that the composition of the House standing committees is practically concluded, he is anxious to announce them, as it will relieve him from further imther importunities and annoyance. Revival of Business. Reports from New York represented a marked improvement in all branches of business, and a large increase in the demand for labor, with good prospects for a heavy spring trade. Those who have been looking for a sudden change from depression to activity, in the shape of a revival of wild speculative action, such as was experienced during the war, have, of course, been disappointed. In those times millions of men were engaged in consuming and destroying property, while the currency was being inflated, with egold up in the hundreds. That was a war basis, with all the uncertainties the term implies. Now we are on a peace basis, which means a specie basis. In regard to the currency there is no uncertainty, and therefore nothing in that line upon which to speculate. Inflation has been taken out of all values, and prices are at the bottom. There is no danger of futrher shrinkage, and when a merchan or manufacturer takes an account of stock he knows what he has got. He is not called upon to make an allowance for further decline. Real estate is also down to hardpan, and capitalists feel warranied in investing, and they are investing, not wildly, but steadily and safely. There is an abundance of currency. The volume of money i relatively greater by 100 per cent, than it was ten years ago, and there never was at any time near so much capital waiting an opportunity for investment as at present. By reason of the improvement in government credit the rate of interest has been largely reduced. Government interest fixes the standard. Six per cent. net on United Stales bonds meant 8 to 10 per cent. in ordinary business where risks were taken and taxes assumed. Now the government rate is 4 per cent. This means 6 to 8 per cent. in ordinary business and the low rate obtainable on government investments forces capitalists to took around for something that will pay better. Besides, the country has experienced two years of large crops in succession, and this has stimulated a large foreign trade, which has forced the balance heavily in our favor. In the production of precious metals, too, our mines are growing and the products are being kept at home. New and inviting fields are being discovered in the West, and these are drawing it, the free consent of two-thirds of largely upon the surplus labor of the States. These products of gold and silver are steadily inflating our currency. This is a feature that the wild paper money Inflationists overlook. They do not seem to realize that a million of coin added to the volume, of currency is as much inflation as a million of paper. It is a kind of inflation, too, that will stand. Our mines are now producing stand. Our mines are now producing stand. at the rate of one hundred millions as nually, and the bulk of this is being coined into money. This money, too, is staying at home. From 1860 to 1878, inclusive, the exports of precious metals over imports were $898,724, 772 The products of our mines and more went abroad. In 1873 the year of the panie, the excess of exports of gold and silver over imports was $63,127,657. Now there is no excess. We are holding our gold and silver, and pay Eu-

We are thus carrying the national debt; selling more than we buy and that that amendment does not confer adding the products of our mines, or the the right of suffrage; but that the bulk there of, to the volume of money, while our paper currency rests upon a frage for any other reason than his race specie basis, and is the best currency that has had an existence in this or any other country.

THE country is eagearly watching the great debate now going on in Congress.

It is a fitting celebration of the return of the grand old Democratic party. It is a fitting return of the grand old Demo-eratic party into power. It is a fitting cratic party into power. It is a fitting time to examine into the first principles laid down by the founders of this Stnies, with the limitation, however, Government that we may return to the practice of our Democratic ancestors.

This Government for the last eighteen years has been reeling like a drunken man. It has rocked like a ship at sea without chart, compass, or rudder. The unbridled will of a mere | right to vote without regard to the readespotic majority has bid defiance to sons upon which any person might attempt to prevent him from doing so law and Constitution. Bribery and were unconstitutional and void. corruption have held high carnival in the Halls of Congress and reckless and criminal extravagance have permeated every branch of the Government. It is Legislature authorized Gov. Cobb to time that the old ship was righted up; retire the state's 8 per cent obligations that the officers and crew, drunk with power, debauched by the continuance of licentious indulgences, should be driven out and replaced by purer and better men.

No military or naval officer, or other persons engaged in the civil, military, or naval service of the United States, shall order, bring, keep, or have under his authority or control any troops or armed men at the place where any general or special election is held in any State, unless it be necessary to repel the armed enemies of the United States, or to keep the peace at the poll.

The Democrats propose to modify the law by striking out "or to keep the peace at the polls." It is not proposed to amend the section quoted in the ordinary way of legislation. The amendment is incorporated in the bill making appropriations for the support of the army. This is extraordinary legislation, to say the least. It is a species of legislation which has been denounced by every Democrat in the land as Republican usurpation. No authority but Republican practices can be found to justify it. No precedent but Repub-

THE DEBATE in the House on the DAILY NEWS Whatever doubt there may be about the fate of the amendment which has waked such a vehement debate, tomorrow's news from Washington will remove. There are whispers in the air of Democratic defection. Should the amendment fail in the House it will be tacked on again in the Senate. There it will be debated by Bayard, Thurman and Blaine, the prospective candidates in that body for the Presidency. We will soon know the fate of the bill in the House and the prospects for a deadlock in a new direction.

MR. MAC MAHONE has read history o little purpose if he believes, as indicated in his speech in reply to Garfield, that Southern Democrats were alone responsible for secession. Northern Democrats then as now head in the revolt. We thank Mr. Mac Mahone for these brave words in vindication of Southern Democrats: I deny to gentlemen on the other side, in all common decency, the right to hold over these gentlemen the unmanly threat of my colleague from Ohio, that their conduct is revolutionary, and is similar in its purposes and intents to the action of their predecessors in the years 1860 and 1861. In 186 the intent of the southern men was to break up the Union. In 1879 the demo-cratic party is contending for the corner-stone of free government—the freedom of the polls from the interference of the regular soldier. When southern men range themselves under our ban-ner, how do they violate their duty as Representatives? Why shall they be assaulted as untrue to the Union? Does loyalty consist in an attachment to the decaying body of the republican arty?

The application is not very clear, but the intention we know to be good. It is not that kind of a bloody garment Garfield is flaunting just now.

What the Democratic policy will be in the event the bill is vetoed by the President is yet to be determined. How far its policy is to be shaped by Republican practices we cannot determine from the debates. The law is an "odious and dangerous" one and ought to be repealed, but it ought to be done according to Democratic usage-in the usual way of legislation. Moderation and wisdom should be the guide of the Democratic party in the grave emergency now at hand.

WHEN Grafield talks about "free consent" being "the theory of our law" it is the devil quoting scripture, but his points are strongly put. He said: Our theory of law is free consent That is the granite foundation of our whole superstructure. Nothing in this Republic can be law/swithout con-sent—the free consent of the House; the free consent of the Senate; the free conent of the Executive, or, if he rufuse hese bodies. Will any man deny that Will any man challenge a line of the statement that free consent is the foun-dation rock of all our institutions?

It makes no difference what the issu If it were the simplest and most in offensive proposition in the world, yet if you demand, as a matter of coercion,

IN THE debate in the House, the Reoublicans are loath to concede the well settled principles that the constitution Zambesi. of the United States does not confer the right of suffrage. Mr. Carlisle made this point very clear in a colloquy with Frve, of Maine, during Tuesday's debate. He said: It is well settled, and gentlemen who assail the position must overthrow a least three solemn decisions of the Sureme Court of the United States, tha the Constitution of the United States does not confer the right of suffrage upon a human being. The only effect of the fifteenth amendment of the Constitution is to protect a certain, class o citizens of the United States agains discrimination by a State in the right to vote, on account of their race, color or previous condition of servitude. The Supreme Court expressly decides States still have the power to deprive the colored citizen of the right of sufcolor, or previous condition of servi-tude; and in the State of Rhode Island to-day colored citizens are deprived of the right of suffrage if they do not possess a certain property qualification And in the State of Massachusetts speak of these because they are New not read the Constitution in the English language and cannot write their names, and because they have not paid all the taxes assessed against human being, but has left the whol under the fifteenth amendment, tha they shall not deny or abridge the right on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; and the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the third and fourth sec tions of the act of May 31, 1870, which undertakes to protect the citizen in his

"It seems there will be a dead lock between the President and Congress, if we can judge from the temper of the other side in the House. There will be no general legislation from the present outlook. Great excitement prevails here. We are boldly charged with attempting to break up the Government. The bloody-shirt hangs high."

IT APPEARS from the testimeny of Gorham before the Wallace Committee that Hugh Waddell a North Carolina, was the only Democrat in the departments who refused to contribute to the Republican campaign fund. Of course Waddell was "bounced" immediately. The Democratic party can afford to take care of such men.

As TRYE's tornado of abuse and vilification of the South lulled the member from the 2nd North Carolina District walked across the lobby to the cloakroom humming.

"And are we rebels vet alive And do we yet rebel, 'Tis wondrous, 'tis amazing grace

That we are out of hell,"

According to Garfield's quick logic, when a minority of the House and the Senate have voted against a bill making full annual appropriations for the army, and when Hayes has vetoed it, unless the majority of the House and of the Senate hack and patch the bill so as to make it acceptable no longer to themselves but to the minority and to

Hayes, their course is revolutionary and incendiary. LET every voter remember that last week the Republican party declared that Federal soildiers are necessary appendages of elections in this country. It was a shameful assertion of anti-republican doctrine, which should lead to the complete defeat of the anti-republican party which made it.

THE Republicans be it noted, swear to high Heaven that they will fight to the death to retain on the statute-book the law which give the President power to use the Federal troops at elections to aid the Republican party purposes. They call that "protecting the Constitution."

GARFIELD has repeated several times the remark that the Democrats mean "to shoot the nation to death." He was particularly violent on that topic Saturday, but as usual failed to explain how the job of "shooting the nation to death" is going to be accomplished.

GARFIELD says the thing of our law s free consent, and demands that a bill shall be made a law against the free consent of the House and against the free consent of the Senate. And this is about the size of his tissue howl about revolution and coercion.

LIVER PILLS

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.)AIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER DR. C. McLane's LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL. For all bilious derangements, and

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a it ing person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow.

MERRILL'S HERRATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidi /, causes the Liver to throw

MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for topidil, causes the Liver to throw off from one to vo ounces of bile ev't time the blood passes through it, as long at there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yell w complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given. SOLD AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR PILLS

The Cotton Spurt. The sudden rise of the price of cotton has taken is due to the shortage in Liverpool. There is now 350,000 bales less in that market than there was the same time last year. The supply not equal to the demand. The outloo is unfavorable to an adequate supply of the staple now in the market to keep factories running at the present rate.

We learn that Dr. Hammond of New York, is out in another pamphlet in which he "goes for" our Dr. Grissom, giving him the full benefit of the report and bill introduced by the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform and passed by the late Legislature of Dr. Grisusual polish and ability, and we may soon expect an able and interesting

Oh, the fickle, fickle weather? For a day.

But there's mickel, mickel weather That would suit us all together

For, take us all together,

We're as fickle as the weather Who's toblame? Be Still-er--i'll Seize You."

This the war cry of the revenue raider. But the unsophisticated country man heedeth it not and unsuspecting like goes on running the "blockade. Two more of the innocents came t grief this week. Deputy at Large Sor rell came in yesterday from a little tramp among to "blockader" of Wake. He captured a still in White Oak township on Monday containing 500 gals. beer and on Tuesday gathered in another from Middle Creek. Both were doing a thriving business and liberally patronized particularly by the weary waybarer.

United States Commissioners Court. For lack of better information he gave the prisoner the benefit of the doubt and forthwith discharged him, with his customary good Habeas Corpus Before Judge Dillard. The case of deputy collector Moore who was arrested on a charge of being accessory to the murder of McDowell of Moore county came up before Judge Dilliard yesterday. From the evidence on the part of the State the Judge made up his mind that Mr. Moore should be bound over for trial at the August term of Moore court. The amount of bail was not fixed, the judge not wishing to make it excessive; he gave the defand-ant until to-day at 12 m to secure his bondsmen at which time he will decide upon the bail. The defence was ably conducted by Judge Merrimon and Capt. Ashe.

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reason able cause, death resulting generally from the most insignficant organ. A this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and a large bill from avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in modicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single bottles sold last year without a single by Wm. Simpson, Pescud

The Celebrated Seven Springs from and Alum Mass. This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends tar and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ilis; and now/we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dre ded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease,

A Remedy that has been neme-The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of Cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility from reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and natritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the marryr to the umatism, the basely living shadow of men, women and children that emerge from the clutches of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their dectors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and and restore their shattered nerves, and far more effective than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emuls on of it, with the Hypephesphites of Lime and Soda. This is the fluest and most natural food and medicine in the world, and wholly deprived of its desay esable qualities, hold by Wm, simpsod, Druggist.
